Odom Corporation

In 1932, a young traveling salesman named Milt Odom stepped off a steamboat in Juneau, Alaska full of ambition and dreams of making his mark on the last frontier. A year later, Milt formed Odom & Company, an independent broker selling bourbon, liquor, coffee, tea, spices, meats, candy, and other dry goods.

In 1937, after meeting with Coca-Cola's Chairman of the Board, Milt seized a unique business opportunity. He acquired the Coca-Cola franchise rights for one dollar.

Throughout the next few years, Milt also acquired distribution franchises for several other popular sodas. And in the early 1950s, Anchorage Cold Storage canned its first Coca-Cola. It signaled the beginning of a new era in soft drink beverage distribution and established Anchorage Cold Storage as the major supplier of canned beverages in Alaska.

In the mid-1970s, Milt reorganized all of his business activities into what is now The Odom Corporation. The company had grown to more than 200 employees located throughout Washington, Idaho and Alaska and had expanded its product line to include beer, wine and spirits.

After Milt passed away in 1988, his three sons – John, Jim and Bill – took over the leadership of the company.

The three brothers worked closely with their father for years and continued his successful business model of building and maintaining relationships and treating people fairly. This approach continues to be the cornerstone of the company's success today.

From 1996 to 2010, Odom began expanding its portfolio and territory through a series of acquisitions, expansions and joint ventures with other beverage distribution companies in the Pacific Northwest. Odom has grown and matured into one of the largest privately held companies in the Northwest. While the corporation has grown considerably, the core operations and values that made Odom an initial success have remained the same.

Odom's divisions and wholly-owned subsidiaries still operate today under the guiding spirit of Milt Odom.

THANK YOU TO THE ODOM CORPORATION FOR THEIR CONTINUING SPONSORSHIP!

The Growing Place

The Alaska Hunter Jumper Association, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization consisting entirely of volunteer member, so any contribution is tax deductible. Each summer, AHJA has put on a horse show that offers hunter, jumper, equitation and novice classes. Riders of all ages come from throughout Alaska to participate. AHJA is the oldest organization providing nationally rated Hunter/Jumper shows in the State of Alaska.

AHJA puts on a great horse show, but it is also a show with a purpose. Each year, we select a worthy non-profit organization to sponsor with our show. We then donate all proceeds above the show expenses to that organization. Our past shows have raised funds for The Stone Soup Group, AWAIC (Abused Women's Aid In Crisis, Inc.), the Salvation Army's McKinnell House, The Eva Foundation, Facing Foster Care in Alaska, Dare to Care School Lunch Program and many others.

Kids' Kitchen Inc
No child should go hungry

Kids' Kitchen is a nonprofit organization based in Anchorage, AK dedicated to providing nutritional meals for children at no cost. With over a million meals served with love since 1996, Kids' Kitchen is starting to see the first children they served grow into young, dynamic adults. Love works for our community, our nation, and our world. Please join us in helping Grandpa Elgrin of Anchorage, Alaska, in supporting the youth through providing healthy, hot food for kids and making life better by taking care of children who will one day care for us. It is not charity; it is investment. Visit www.kidskitchenak.com or call 907-274-8522 to learn more about Kid's Kitchen! In 2017 AHJA Charity Challenge will be another Ride A Buck class with donations going directly to Kids' Kitchen.

We're so proud to be sponsoring this wonderful organization and look forward to your generous donation in support of this cause. Thank you very much!
